

Lieutenant-Colonel Robert H. McMillan

Lt Col Robert “ISR Bob” McMillan served in the 343rd Strategic Reconnaissance Squadron (SRS) as an Electronic Warfare Office (EWO/Raven), instructor, evaluator, Crew Commander, RC-135 Manual Systems Chief (Initial Qualification Training (IQT)) and the 55th Wing’s Senior Stan Eval crew (OGV). Lt Col McMillan was the Mission Director for naval Freedom of Navigation (FON) operations across Libya’s “Line of Death” in the Gulf of Sidra. As Chief, Joint Staff/J7 Warfighting Capabilities Assessment Branch, McMillan led key studies resulting in procurement of RIVET JOINT 17. Following active-duty service, Lt Col (Ret) McMillan continued to serve the 55th Wing mission at Headquarters, Air Combat Command (ACC). In this role, McMillan works directly with the Joint Staff and 55th Operations Group (OG) developing the Global Force Management Plan (GFMP) to support worldwide Combatant Command requirements. As a result, Lt Col (Ret) McMillan’s HQ ACC contributions ensure the Fightin’ Fifty-fifth mission is consistently successful, reputable, reliable and at the forefront of operations around the world.
